How Missed Appointments Can Destroy Your Injury Claim

After an accident, life gets busy. You have a car to repair, work to catch up on, and kids to feed. It is easy to look at a physical therapy appointment or a follow-up with your doctor and think, "I feel okay today. I can skip this one."

Please don't.

What to Do If You See a Serious Crash in Albuquerque

It's a scenario many Albuquerque drivers know too well: you are driving down Coors Boulevard or navigating the intersection of Montgomery and Wyoming. Suddenly, you witness a T-bone collision or a rollover right in front of you. Your instinct is to help. But in the adrenaline of the moment, it is easy to make mistakes that can endanger you or complicate the legal process for the victims. What should you do? What should you not do?

Congratulations to our legal assistant Brian! He is celebrating one year as part of our dedicated legal team. Here's to many more years helping injured New Mexicans with Whitener Law Firm!

5-STAR REVIEW

I am very pleased with the Whitener firm! Our primary counsel from Whitener was Nichole Henry. For the entire duration of our long drawn out case, Nichole never slowed down, and consistently represented me and my family with the utmost integrity and skill. She's a most formidable lawyer for sure, and a compassionate person as well, which we deeply appreciated. She always communicated to us in a way that we could understand and showed respect for our lost love one. Whitener has a good one in Nichole,.....thank you so much! Lastly I'd be remiss if I didn't mention one of her partners Dan d'Adio (forgive me sir), another stellar associate whom we are grateful for! 🙏
